THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

Events of Interest From Washington.

By J. E. Jones.

POLITICS MAKE STRANGE BED-FELLOWS.

Colonel George Harvey, formerly of Harper's Weekly, was the original Woodrow Wilson booster, and he and Marse Henry Watterson spilled buckets of ink to demonstrate that Woodrow Wilson should be President of the United States. Mr. Wilson thought that the two gentlemen were boosting for Wall Street, and he threw them over. Now they have been received back into the fold and harmony has been restored to the White House. The President has also declared his support for Governor Glynn of New York, and Roger Sullivan of Illinois, and he has also placed his O. K. upon the candidacy of a number of Senators who are up for reelection. Senator Bristow of Kansas has made remarks that would indicate that he was fearful that President Wilson had become the tool of sinister influences. "There has not been an administration for a half century that is so objectively subservient to the Wall Street influences as this one," said Mr. Bristow. But somebody always says that about every administration.

THE TROUBLE WITH TROLLEY LINES.

Catobutably the country will wish the Public Utilities Commission of Washington success in its attempts to regulate the almost unbearable conditions that exist in the street car service at the National Capital. Naturally, it would be expected that at the seat of government the troublesome features of local transit would be solved, but, as a matter of fact, it is doubtful whether there is a city in the entire country that has more cross-coming of the lines of the different companies than Washington, where every device known to clever corporations is resorted to in order to get "an extra fare. There is even talk of government ownership of the street car lines in order to avoid the annoyances that the public are subjected to. It seems just as easy for the street railway magnates to manipulate the town where the government has its headquarters as any other place.

"I AM A FOOL FOR LUCK."

Everyone likes frankness in public officials, therefore, the comment of Vice President Marshall on the nineteenth anniversary of his marriage ought to meet with public approval. "Marriage is a great institution if you get the right wife," soliloquized Mr. Marshall. He continued: "Now I am a fool for luck, but I would hesitate to advise the young men of this country to go and do likewise, for if they were not lucky they might lay their misfortune to me."

SIR EDWARD CARSON.

A few weeks ago there was violent talk of war in Ireland and Sir Edward Carson, who was at the head of the Ulster men, started in to resist home rule. Now Ireland is united, and Sir Carson's advice to his followers is practically: "We must all turn in to sleep like those Germans, in order to get a clear field for our own civil war. We will put that on as soon as this difficulty is out of the way."

WHEN CONGRESS QUITS.

Congress is about ready to pull up stakes, but it may be that the President will summon "the boys" back to Washington after election. It is known that the President wants to put the finishing touches on his "policy" and to arrange legislation that on March 4th, next, he will be able to say to the legislators that they may go home and stay there until December. Congress has been in almost continuous session for almost six years, and when the administration program is completed, Mr. Wilson believes it will be time to give the country a rest.

THE CLOTHES THEY WORE.

One frequently hears comments to the effect that the highest officials of the government, and notably those of the two Houses of Congress, are poorly dressed.

"When I first visited Washington, at the time of the civil war, I noticed that every one of the Senators was dressed in a conventional and very dignified manner. There were two or three who wore swallowtail coats, and I remember seeing a venerable gentleman sitting upon a bench at the rear

WEDDINGS

DURELL-EVERETT.

Miss Ada Mauda Everett, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roswell Frost, was married to Mr. Daniel Tristram Durell of Bethel at the Frost home, Sunday, October the fourteenth. The Rev. James Little officiated at the double ring service. The rooms were decorated with autumn leaves, with ferns as a background for a beautiful arch twined with red berries from which was suspended a wedding-bell. To the familiar, and ever-thrilling strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Adeline DeCosta, the bridal party entered. Mr. Durell accompanied by Mr. Ernest Ham, as best man. The little page, Howard DeCosta, as bearer of the ring, preceded the maid of honor, Miss Helen Frost.

The bride was given away by her grandfather, Mr. Frost. The ceremony was impressive, and its solemn beauty was reflected in the large group of relatives and near friends.

The bride's dress was of pure white crepe de chine, with the corsage of Chantilly lace, with long wing draperies; the bouquet was of bride roses. The maid of honor was in pale green champagne. A dainty wedding luncheon was served, and then amid congratulations and good wishes Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Durell departed, by auto, to regions unrevealed.

After Nov. 1st, the fine old Mason mansion on Broad street, which has been in the bridegroom's family for one hundred years, and has been lately thoroughly renovated, will be the home of the happy pair. Mr. and Mrs. Durell have been the recipients of many valuable and beautiful gifts from Bethel and Norway friends, as well as relatives, and the village will gladly welcome into the married circle this addition in the persons of these so well-known and valued young people.

CHASE-SORIBNER.

Mr. George Henry Shirley Chase and Miss Sadie Fidelia Soribner were united in marriage at the Congregational parsonage, Saturday evening, Oct. 17, in the presence of a small party of immediate friends.

The single ring service was used and Rev. W. C. Curtis officiated.

JORDAN-CONROY.

A charming wedding was that of Thursday afternoon when Miss M. Ellen Conroy of Minot, became the wife of Elmon Jordan of Bethel. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Conroy, by Rev. H. P. Woodin, pastor of the High Street Congregational church, Auburn, the single ring service being used. The bride was attended by Miss Gertrude Merrill of Portland, Dellison Conroy of Bethel, a brother of the bride, acting as best man.

The rooms were tastefully decorated with autumn leaves, evergreen and snow drops. The bridal party entered the room to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, played by Miss May Crooker of Mechanic Falls. The bride looked charming in a dainty gown of white crepe de chine. She carried bridal roses. Miss Merrill was groomed in pale yellow and carried pink roses.

A beautiful pearl necklace was the gift of the groom to the bride. To his best man he presented a pair of solid gold cuff links. The bride's gift to the bridegroom was a gold pin.

Many wedding gifts were received of the usual silver, linen, china and cut glass. Guests to the number of sixty witnessed the ceremony. Those present from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jordan, Mrs. Ira Jordan, Dr. and Mrs. Brown, Miss Sylvia Swan, Dellison Conroy, all of Bethel, Mrs. C. M. Hoffman and daughter, of Boston; Mrs. Hiram Harris, Lowell, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Verill, Miss Clara Stackpole, Portland; Mrs. D. H. Verill, Wilton; Miss Merrill, Auburn; Miss Nellie McDonald; Miss Ethel Storer, Lewiston, and Miss Helen Rowe, Poland.

Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Jordan left for a few weeks trip. The bride's going away suit was dark blue Davette trimmed with white fur.

Mr. Jordan is a graduate of Gould's Academy, Bethel, and of Kent's High Pottle of Lovell had been by an error summoned to appear at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and were not present when the jury was organized. At the afternoon session they appeared, and were dismissed finally.

Judge Haley gave the grand jury very clear instructions as to their duty and their mode of procedure, and they began their work.

Alon A. R. Kimball presented the certificate of Hugh Warren Hastings of Fryeburg, and moved his admission to the bar. In doing this Mr. Kimball referred to the fact that forty-nine years have passed since his own admission, and spoke feelingly of the young man's grandfather, the late Hon. David R. Hastings, and his father, E. E. Hastings, both members of this bar, as his close personal friends. The oath was administered to Mr. Hastings.

Mr. Hastings is, as already stated, the son of E. E. Hastings of Fryeburg. He is a graduate of Bowdoin College in the class of 1911, and of Harvard Law School in the class of 1914. For the present at least he will be to practice with his father at Fryeburg. Spaulding Bishop, Esq., of Rumford, grandson of Hon. Gen. D. Bishop, who had been admitted to practice law in

Last Thursday evening the Assembly Hall of the Academy was well filled by students and townspeople, who had gathered to enjoy one more of Prof. Cross' illustrated lectures. HARVEST FAIR

At Odd Fellows' Hall, Bethel, Oct. 22.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church will hold the annual Harvest Fair and Harvest Supper at Odd Fellows' Hall on Thursday afternoon and evening, Oct. 22.

Now please remember that if The Oxford County Citizen, "published every Thursday," should this week appear on Wednesday, as usual, because as a rule the editor is "one better" than his word, the harvest fair and supper occur the following day. If the paper appears on Thursday—and the editor never yet failed to keep his word—you go down to the Odd Fellows' Hall on this "very day" to get your supper and whatever other things you may care to purchase.

Because of the Mid-Summer Sale which was held last August, the tables of fancy articles, aprons, and ice cream will be omitted at this year's harvest fair. But there will be a fruit and vegetable table, a candy table, and Parcel Post; and at 6:15 p. m., the harvest supper.

When eggs are selling at twenty-five cents in some parts of the war zone, there is no knowing how high fruit and vegetables will be before long, even in America. By planting time, next year, you may have to pay five cents apiece for "pumpkin" seeds. So don't fail to buy something at the vegetable and fruit table, and get your seeds free. And can't! Why, sugar may be worth its weight in gold soon. Then you may feel that you cannot afford home made candy. So be sure to gratify your taste for these wholesome sweets at this fair for the usual reasonable rates.

Perhaps you remember that there was a Parcel Post at the mid-summer sale, and perhaps you got some mail at that place. There may be fair post for you at the harvest fair. Some part of it got delayed. That package which was coming from the North Pole has had to travel slowly, owing to the fact that the ice-bergs got in the way. Or perhaps the bundle which your cousin sent via the Panama Canal fell overboard and had to be fished out and dried before it could be forwarded. So be sure to call at this department and find out what is there for you. All mail on this line is sent "O. D. style, and so the small sum of five or ten cents will be collected on delivery.

Of course you all want some "dried vittles," "pumpkin" pie, and the other good things for which the harvest supper is famed. As we were saying, eggs sell in some places for twenty-five cents each. But at the harvest supper that sum will pay for not only the egg in your "pumpkin" pie, but for the whole bill of fare. A word to the wise, the shrewd, and the hungry is sufficient. It is sufficient for all those who enjoy meeting together after the harvest has been gathered in and partaking of its bounty. So come, everybody.

Many a man is so exclusive that he isn't even on speaking terms with his conscience.

It is much easier to make a fool of a man than it is to make a farmer of a fool.

THE HOME CIRCLE.

Pleasant Reveries—A Column
Dedicated to Tired Mothers
as they Join the Home
Circle at Evening Tide.

No man has ever done his duty until
he has done his best.

The best kind of sympathy is that which lends a hand.

To ease another's heartache is to forget one's own. Little things are little things but faithfulness in little things is something great.—Augustine.

It is not who you are nor the wealth
you possess, but what you are that determines the worth of your existence.

KEEP A RECORD OF
YOUR CHILD'S LIFE.

When the babies have outgrown
their baby days a mother finds most of her happiness in reminiscences of the past. Long after she has become a grandmother she will think back with joy and pride to the days when her children were infants. It is too bad that so few young mothers realize how much the little belongings and notes pertaining to their infants will mean to them when the babies are grown. There are few women who retain the souvenirs of their children's infancy and there is always regret in after years that there are so few tangible bits of evidence of bygone days.

The keeping of a baby book requires so little trouble and affords so much pleasure, both in the making and in later years, that it is really surprising that more mothers do not invest in them. Perhaps if they realized how much these books would mean to them in the future the number of baby book mothers would increase 50 per cent.

For use as a baby book any kind of a big blank book with strong binding
and heavy paper would suffice.
The books should be about a foot in width. Where it is possible, leather bindings are the best of all, for the other bindings are apt to do. As the book will probably contain a large number of photographs, it will be wiser to select for your baby book one in which the blank paper sheets are free from all chemicals, which might prove ruinous to the prints. Manila paper is perhaps accounted the best for this reason.

In starting the baby book it must be remembered that every little thing pertaining to the baby from its birth
on will be of interest to the mother
in later years, even the little incidents of the most common type. To start off with any newspaper notes as to the baby's birth should be pasted in with the birth certificate. Then any letters from friends and a list of the present to the little new arrival and their donors should be placed on the same page along with a record of its weight at birth.

For the year following all sorts of interesting things should find their way into the baby book. First a weight chart covering each week from birth up to its first birthday. Then all sorts of photographs of the baby itself in all its stages, from the first smile to the twelfth, snapshots and regular professional photographs. Then a picture of its first Christmas tree and another of its presents, then a copy of the baby's baptismal card and a few pictures should go little aunts of interest in the mother's handwriting about first teeth, first walks and the how, where and when
of the child's first steps. The baby's diary should all be recounted, any trips the baby may take, his first visits to relatives and their comments
all deserve places in this book of baby's life.

Little articles of interest may also be pasted in this book if they are rather flat in character. For instance its first pair of shoes deserve some notice, and when they are replaced by a new pair one of the old ones

may be pasted in flat, also one of its first gloves.

A strict account should be kept of the little gifts received and a list of the friends who gave them, for this will be of interest to the child itself
when it is older. Also its baptismal certificate should be given an important spot.

In fact, everything pertaining to the baby should find its way into the baby
book, and this will prove in later years
more interesting than the finest literature to the mother.

SELECTED RECIPES—TRY THEM.

Oatmeal Cookies: Two cups sugar,
one and one-half cups shortening, four eggs, one cup sour cream, two teaspoons soda, two cups fruit (raisins),
three cups oatmeal, three and one-half cups flour, two teaspoonsful cinnamon, one-half teaspoonful cloves. The least stirring the better. Drop from a spoon, flatten and bake.

Salad Dressing: Three eggs, butter
size of an egg, one cup of milk, one teaspoonful of best mustard, one teaspoonful of salt, a pinch of red pepper and six tablespoons of vinegar. Mix eggs, milk, butter and mustard and spice together and let heat, then add vinegar, one spoonful at a time. Then let it thicken, stirring constantly, but not to boil. Serve cold.

Chocolate Cake: Two cups brown
sugar, one-half cup butter, two eggs, one-half cup sour milk, one cake of chocolate shaved in cup boiling water.
When dissolved, put in one teaspoon soda in the hot water, two and one-half cups of sifted flour.

Cocoanut Bars: Melt two cupsful
of sugar in half a cupful of milk, add half a cupful of butter, pinch of cream
of tartar and one teaspoonful of golden syrup, and boil gently until, when a little is dropped into cold water it will snap. It should change color but must not burn, remove from the fire and quickly stir in one cupful of chopped cocoanut and quarter of a teaspoonful of almond extract and pour into a buttered tin. When set and quite cold, break up into bars.

Double Fudge: Put two cupsful of sugar into a saucepan, add two table-spoonsful of butter, two squares of grated chocolate and half a cupful of cream and stir until it forms a soft ball in cold water, remove from the fire and add one teaspoonful of vanilla extract, heat until creamy and pour into a buttered tin. Put into the same saucepan two cupsful of brown sugar,
one heaping tablespoonful of butter,
and a half cupful of cream and stir
until it forms a soft ball in cold water;
remove from the fire, add one cupful
of chopped nut meats, half a teaspoonful of almond extract, heat until creamy and pour on top of the first fudge. When cool cut in squares.

Date Candy: Put into a saucepan
three cupsful of sugar, one and a half cupsful of water, and a pinch of
cream of tartar and boil until it forms
a soft ball when tried in cold water,
remove from the fire, add one cupful
of sliced and chopped dates and one
teaspoonful of rose extract and beat
until it becomes creamy and pour into
a buttered tin. Cut up when cold.

Vanilla Cookies: Two cups of brown sugar, one-half pint of lard, one-half cupful of water, and a pinch of
cream of tartar and boil until it forms
a soft ball when tried in cold water,
remove from the fire, add one cupful
of sliced and chopped dates and one
teaspoonful of rose extract and beat
until it becomes creamy and pour into
a buttered tin. Cut up when cold.

Diseases of Children

I find that worms is one of the most common of children's diseases—either pinworms or stomach worms.

These parasites attack the stomach and bowels and make their presence felt
through deranged stomach,
swollen upper lip, sour
stomach, offensive breath,
hard and full belly, pale face of lead-
ish tint, eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, short dry cough, grinding of the teeth, little red points sticking out on tongue, starting during sleep, slow fever.

For over 60 years, Dr. True's Elixir, my father's discovery, has been the standard remedy for worms and stomach disorders. Take no chances, but use the time-tried remedy—Dr. True's

Mrs. Betsey Leonard Gammon passed away Tuesday of last week after a

69 years ago in the same house in which she died. She was the daughter of Elkanah Leonard and Mary Leonard,
old residents of Canton. On Jan. 2, 1870, she became the wife of George Dana Gammon of Canton. One child was born to bless their union, a daughter, Addie L. Gammon, who grew to womanhood. At the age of 33 years, after a brave struggle for life, she died
of consumption at Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 16, 1907. The death of their only child was a sad blow to Mr. and Mrs.
Gammon, from which they never recovered. The greater part of their lives have been spent in Canton about 23 years ago they moved away, living in Mechanic Falls, Auburn and Boston.

Two years ago when the health of Mrs.
Gammon commenced to fail they moved back to their native town, since which time the faithful husband has tenderly cared for the beloved one until the end.
Mrs. Gammon was a woman with many fine qualities and will be much missed.
She was a constant attendant of the Free Baptist church when health per-survives, Nettie Norcross, of Cam-

for the bereaved husband. The funeral was held from the home, Thursday, at ficiating. The floral tributes were many and very beautiful. The remains were

THIRTY-FOUR SENATORS TO BE ELECTED IN NOVEMBER

First General Election Under Seventeenth Amendment to be Held Next Month—Some Changes are Expected

The first general election under the seventeenth amendment to the federal constitution, providing for the direct election of senators, will be held in November, at which time, in 33 of the states, the voters will make the selections heretofore made by the legislatures. Thirty-four senators will be elected in November, due to the fact that in Kentucky and Georgia there will be elections for the "short" term. In addition to elections for the long term of six years. In Georgia the "short" term will end March 4, 1915; that in Kentucky it will only end March 4, 1915.

Twenty-four senators are candidates for reelection, while eight are not candidates. Of the latter, some withdrew voluntarily, while others tried for a re-election at the direct primaries and failed.

For former Senators are candidates, Charles Curtis, Republican, in Kansas and W. E. Borah, Democrat, in New York. Mr. Curtis went to the Senate from the House, and he served in both bodies one of considerable length. Mr. Borah served as Senator by gubernatorial appointment, to fill a vacancy, and withdrew in a few months to make way for the Senator regularly elected by the legislature.

Representatives are Candidates.

When members of the House of Representatives are candidates for the Senate this year, or, rather, 19, for Representative Robert F. Wagner, who is to take a place in the Senate next March 4, was elected to that place two years ago, it being the custom in several of the Southern States to fill positions of this kind well in advance of the time when vacancies are to occur. Mr. Wagner makes the eleventh member of the present House having senatorial aspirations. The other 18 are:

Thomas W. Woodruff of Alabama, majority leader of the House and principal author of the new tariff law; J. H. Kindel of Colorado, who is the candidate of the independent Progressives of his State; Joseph H. Knowland, who has the Republican nomination in California; Thomas W. Hendricks, Democrat, in Georgia, who is candidate for the projected term of four years; Maurice Connolly, Democrat, in Iowa; George A. Nead, Democrat, in New Hampshire; Raymond H. Brown, Democrat, in New Hampshire; A. Mitchell Palmer, Democrat, in Pennsylvania; and Charles H. McNair, Rep. from South Dakota.

The policy of renouncing competent members of the House by promoting them to the Senate is so old that it is the oldest policy, and in all probability will not be abandoned. Of the House as at present only 42 men have served more than a third of all those served to the House. Nine of these are former Speakers, namely: Henry B. Howell and Charles F. McNair, both of Maine; John W. Aldrich of New Hampshire; Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York; Charles D. Walcott of New York; and Charles W. McNair of New York.

While the first general election is to come in November, that will not be the first time senators have been elected to direct vote under the seventeenth amendment to the constitution. The first senator to be elected was Senator James H. Smith of Kentucky, in the year 1901. The next was Senator Frank B. Rowland of New York, in the year 1902. He will serve in the United States until he was the first senator to be elected by direct vote after a real contest. In by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a running ear or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever, also cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh of the mucous surface.

We will give you the best medicine for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by local applications, sent for free, if you will send for it.

ORTEOUS, MITCHELL & BRAUN CO.

Portland's Modern Department Store.

A Wonderful Sale of RUGS is now in progress at the P. M. & B. Co.

store in Portland—by far the largest and most important sale of Rugs ever conducted at this store and as far as we know in this State.

$7,700.00 Worth

A Grand Variety

There are just Four Hundred and Sixty Seven Rugs to choose from—an immense assortment—seven different grades in carpet size Rugs alone—besides all the different smaller sizes down to those that measure but 6 by 6 feet.

Rugs of Quality

Every rug is new, clean and perfect. In the lot there are no imperfect patterns, no seconds, no undersides—they are the perfect products of the "Bigelow" Carpet Co., a fact which is in itself a guarantee of high grade and absolute dependability. These are the rugs we offer in this sale at from 25 to 50 per cent less than our own regular low prices.

Do You Need Rugs

If you have need of a new Rug for Parlor, Living Room, Dining Room, Hall or Library, do not neglect this exceptional opportunity—it will pay you to come many miles to secure a choice from this large assortment and the amount saved will more than pay your Railroad fare to this store and return home.

REMEMBER! We pay transportation charges to any part of Maine and adjoining States, on any of the Rugs bought at this store.

Buy a Carpet Size Rug now and save anywhere from $7.50 to $17.50 on it.

How Can We Do It?

How can we do it? Quite a natural question. The "Bigelow" Carpet Co. was recently taken over by the Hartford Carpet Co. and the consequent readjustment of the large surplus stock after consolidation, placed a great many big rugs on the market.

The perfect sale prices on these rugs were obtainable only by these who could try in very large quantities and were able to make a prompt commitment—we could do both.

For New York Rugs sent to us, over on the spot, were present to make selections of the most important ones at the best—these are the Rugs on sale now, at from 25 to 50 per cent less than our own regular low prices.

FARM FACTS.

By Peter Radford, Lecturer National Farmers' Union.

Agriculture needs all the great men it can get.

In union there is strength and in co-operation there is profit.

The farmer can neither help himself nor be helped by others until he organizes.

The economic distribution of farm products is today the world's greatest problem.

Our transportation systems are the drag ends of agriculture and can be made capable peddlers of farm products.

The middleman is nothing more than a farm hand but he is able to fix his own wages and to collect them and to multiply his transactions as he pleases.

Bumper crops without market facilities have sent more farmers staggering down the back alleys of agriculture than all the pests and droughts that ever cursed the nation.

THE AUTO IN THE FIELD.

It is quite a common sight in Maine to see farmers drive to the harvest field in automobiles. It takes a solemn sum of money to buy an automobile and it takes good roads, as well as gasoline, to run them.

A joy ride in the harvest fields of this State is one of the most exhilarating experiences that is available on this continent and one that would charm a tourist and convince a homesick.

A speedy tour in a life-time. In mopping out automobile routes the Maine harvest fields should be given a prominent position. Why not a "See Rural America First" campaign?

THE TOWN FOUNTAIN.

A good place to feel the pulse of civic life is at the public drinking trough. The ebb and flow of animal life, as it quenches its thirst at the public fountain gives us an estimate of the wealth, population and prosperity of the community; the character, habits and occupations of its people and the utility, pleasure and hardships of its citizens. There is no better place to study the progress of the community than at the town pump.

Every village in Maine should have a town pump and every city with waterworks should have a drinking fountain where a stream of pure running water, freely dispensed Adams like to the thirsty populace. Pure water and plenty of it is a good community building.

ILLITERACY AMONG MAINE RURAL POPULATION.

The need of more and better rural schools in Maine is made manifest by conditions revealed in a recent census report showing the percentage of illiterates among the native white farming class of this State. The figures show that the percentage of illiterates among the rural districts of Maine is 2.3 and 1.7 per cent in the cities and villages of the State. Maine has 24,551 illiterates and 9,573 of them live on the farms. There are 6,280 boys and men and 3,192 girls and women on the farms of this State that can neither read nor write.

DEE BUSINESS BUZZING.

Maine bee-keepers have just completed gathering the 1914 honey crop. According to the Bureau of Crop Estimates of the United States Department of Agriculture, the yield per colony of bees was 45 pounds. In 1913 the production per hive was 39 pounds.

The increased production is said to be due to the enormous crop of wild flowers this season.

The latest census figures of the bee and honey industry of this State relate to 1910. That year there were 1,371 farms in Maine that kept bees and the total number of colonies was 7,292.

THE FRIENDS OF THE FARMER.

The plan of the Saint Louis banker to assist the cotton farmers of the South is a further indication of the nation-wide interest which is being manifested in the problems of the man who follows the plow.

The movement is not intended as a plan for purchasing cotton, but is designed rather to make available a fund of $100,000,000 to loan on cotton at not to exceed six cents per pound for the purpose of making cotton a liquid asset, stabilizing its price and bringing about normal conditions again.

It has been said that it takes great calamities to develop our friends and the present crisis is proof positive that the farmer has friends in every line of industry who are willing to share his misfortunes and lighten his burdens. Strong men are strong only as they co-operate with other men, and the spirit of friendliness on the part of the business men towards the farmer augurs well for the future of the agricultural interests of the nation.

The stamp tax on negotiable instruments, stocks and bonds, deeds, bills of lading, pullman car and steamship tickets, and insurance policies is expected to yield $30,000,000 and the remainder will be raised by a levy on tobacco, patent medicines, perfumes, cosmetics, theatre and amusement tickets and etc. The beer tax will yield a revenue more than ten times greater than that of any other single commodity.

"CLOTHES OF THE BETTER KIND"

AMERICAN CHEESE SHOULD BE MADE POPULAR

American cheese makers should take advantage of the present excellent opportunity to establish a reputation for their products that will outlive the present disturbance in international commerce. European cheeses have long been popular in this country, and it is a popular belief that they can not be equaled by the domestic product. For example, in the fiscal year ending June 30 a total of 63,781,313 pounds of cheese were imported into this country. It is not yet possible to say to what extent this trade will be interfered with by the war, but it is certain that the imports for the current year will be much less than they have been in the past.

There is no reason why some of this deficiency can not be made good at home if the farmers will furnish the milk. Already American cheeses have been made which rank in the opinion of experts, fully as high as foreign cheeses of the same class. The popular preference for the imported product, however, has hitherto prevented these cheeses from selling on their own merits in competition with European produce.

One of the most striking instances of this is Limburger cheese. In quality and price American cheese of the Limburger type long ago gave its foreign rival out of the market. Practically all foreign Limburger has been imported into this country for many years. Many consumers, however, have clung to the belief that they were eating a foreign cheese. There is no reason at all why they should not know that the American product is exactly as good as the foreign. Moreover, now that some of the more expensive types of highly flavored foreign cheeses are not likely to reach us for a long time, the demand for domestic Limburger should be greatly increased. The market thus created should remain a good one long after the present conditions have

Frank Anselmo of Anselmo's of Ramford retracted his plea in an appeal search and seizure case, and the sentence of the lower court, a fine of $100 and costs, was affirmed.

William Hall of Mexico pleaded guilty to malicious mischief, the charge being the shooting of a heifer. Mr. Hutchins appeared for him. He was given a sentence of four months in jail.

Jake Angelositz of Berlin, N. H., the plaintiff in the civil suit tried on Thursday, had been indicted jointly with Joe Willard, also of Berlin, for the larceny of a tire from the automobile wrecked at Gilead. He pleaded not guilty, and it was stated to the court that he had been bound over to Berlin for the same offense. He was allowed to go on his own recognizance.

There was quite a lively discussion Friday morning by the attorneys over the case of Ed H. Peters of Ramford, Peters some six years ago took sentence on some liquor cases, and as has been the custom for some time in the case of persistent offenders, an indictment for nuisance, to which a plea of guilty had been entered, was placed on file. Recently a complaint of single sale was made against Peters, and County Attorney Dyer brought forward the old nuisance indictment and asked for sentence on it. Judge Brainerd, Peters' counsel, entered a vigorous protest, but Judge Haley said he had no discretion except to impose sentence if the county attorney moved, and he fixed it at $200 fine, and three months in jail.

In the case of Edward McDonald of Portland, a young man indicted for breaking and entering and larceny, and for the larceny he was sentenced to two months in jail, after an appeal in his behalf had been made by his counsel, Harry E. Nixon of Portland. Victor L. Kneeland of Fryeburg pleaded guilty to the forgery of a check for $3.50. E. E. Hastings addressed the court in the young man's behalf, and the indictment was filed, and he was allowed to go on his own recognizance.

Frank Potter of Dixfield pleaded not guilty to an indictment for assault, County Attorney Dyer said he was satisfied that the man was mentally irresponsible, and he was released with the understanding that he is to be cared for by the municipal officers of his town.

Frank Janard of Ramford, for whom Mr. Beliveau was counsel, pleaded guilty to assault and battery on Deputy Sheriff Landry, and the case was placed on file. An appeal case against Janard for fast driving on the toll bridge was not pressed on payment of $5 costs.

Joe Kabanoskie and Alex Kabanoskie of Ramford retracted their former pleas in complaints for intoxication, and paid each a fine of $10 and costs of $10. An indictment against them for assault on Deputy Sheriff Landry was placed on file after they had pleaded guilty.

Harry C. Chase of Mexico pleaded guilty to breaking and entering and larceny. The charge was that he broke into the garage of Herbert Mitchell of Fryeburg in the night and took an automobile which he drove to Dover, N. H., where he was arrested. Judge A. E. Stevens spoke in Mr. Chase's behalf, and secured the court that as far as to cost learn, the respondent had no intention of retaining the car in his own possession, but that he took it under what he considered an urgent demand that he account of family matters he should get into New Hampshire as soon as possible. Judge Haley imposed a sentence of not less than two years nor more than four years in state prison, with a recommendation of three years.

The single sale cases against Pat Riley and Berle Ann Riley were all pressed except one against Berle Ann Riley, in which a plea of guilty was entered and it was continued for sentence.

Homer Trueman of Norway was arraigned as a common seller, and pleaded not guilty. He had no counsel, and secured the court that he could not be ready for immediate trial, as the witnesses whom he should want were not in town. Under the circumstances, it was decided that the case should be continued to the March term, and Trueman was ordered to furnish bail to the sum of $250.

The last sentence to be imposed was upon Fred Warren of Boston, who had pleaded guilty to three indictments, for seduction, assault with intent to commit adultery, and having obscene literature and pictures in possession for circulation. While waiting in the dock for his sentence to be read, Warren suffered a nervous collapse, and had to be taken into an ambulance for treatment. He finally recovered, supported by an officer, and a sentence was imposed of not less than two nor more than four years in state prison, with a recommendation of three years.

A few other appeal cases were taken up off the docket in the following way: Two complaints for single sale against Joe Kabanoskie were not pressed.

Two complaints for single sale against Joe Kabanoskie were not pressed.

and on payment of costs of $10 in each case.

A complaint against Dermont H. Robbins for illegal speeding of automobile was not pressed on payment of $10 costs.

An appeal case against Fred S. DeCoster and an indictment for nuisance against the same man were not pressed on payment of $25 costs in each case.

In the case against Lyman W. Smith of Canton, who did not appear, bail was ordered defaulted. This was cashed up by Mr. Smith to the amount of $3,000, which will be turned over to the county treasury.

CHASE-BRISSETTE.

A very pretty wedding took place at Norton Mills, Vt., on September 23rd, at 9:00 A. M., when Miss Annie Mabel Brissette, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Brissette, was married to Mr. Lester Robert Chase, of Bethel, Me. The ceremony was performed at the St. Bernard's Catholic Church by the Rev. Father Guay. The church was effectively decorated for the occasion. The music and singing was beautiful as rendered by the choir—under the direction of Miss Alice McElish. Mr. Brissette gave his daughter away. The bride was attended by three bridesmaids, Miss Irene Daniels, one of the bride's cousins, Miss Selma Swanson, both of Norton, Vt., and Miss Daisy Coulton of Conitcook, Que. The groom was attended by Mr. H. A. Dunn of Norton Mills, Vt. The bridesmaids' attendants were Mr. Bernie Brissette of Averill, Vt., Mr. Alpheus Perry of Conway, N. H., both cousins of the bride and Mr. James Pelletier, Postmaster at Lake, Vt.

The bride wore a gown of white silk, draped with shadow lace, and a tulle veil caught with orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and maidenhair fern. Miss Daniels was groomed in pale blue silk, Miss Swanson wore a gown of white voile with a pale lavender globe and Miss Coulton was groomed in pale pink voile. The bridesmaids wore mob caps and carried flowers to correspond with their dresses.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's residence, where autumn flowers and greenery formed the decorations. Following the reception a wedding breakfast was served to about seventy guests, after which the bride and groom left on the noon train for Boston, via the White Mountain division of the Maine Central railway by way of Portland, Bethel and Ramford, Me. The bride's travelling costume was Bedford cord with hat to match. The groom's gift to the bride was a case of silver, and to the bridesmaids, silver photo frames. The bride received many beautiful presents including silver, linen, cut glass, rugs, and furniture, and several substantial checks.

After an extended honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Chase will reside at Norton Mills, and be at home to their many friends after Nov. 10th.

The bride is well known and took an active part in all social functions and has been employed by the Passumpsic Telephone Company, as operator for the past seven years.

Mr. Chase, who has been employed by the Fitzgerald Land & Lumber Company as clerk and auditor at Keegan's, is highly respected.

Following are some of the guests present and their costumes:

BANGOR GETS THE BIG DAIRY SHOW.

The annual meeting and exhibition of the Maine Dairymen's Association will be held in Bangor, December 8-11 inclusive. Following the custom of recent years, the Maine Seed Improvement Association will unite with the Dairymen's Association in holding this convention.

Last year the joint convention of these two associations took place in Lewiston and was perhaps the most successful of any thus far held. It has been many years since the big Dairy Convention of the State has been held as far east as Bangor and it is expected that the farmers of central and eastern Maine will exert every effort to make this the "biggest and best" of them all.

Liberal premiums will be offered as usual for milk, cream, butter and cheese and in addition many special premiums will be offered by those interested in the dairy industry. Among the "sweepstakes prizes" will be a DeLaval Cream Separator which is to be presented to the exhibitor of the highest scoring sample of dairy butter.

The Seed Improvement Association will offer a large number of prizes for exhibits of farm crops of various kinds, complete announcement of which will be made later by the Secretary of that Association.

The educational program will consist of addresses on dairying and general farming, discussions by successful dairy farmers, contests in judging dairy products, and a student speaking contest open to students taking agriculture in the high schools and normal schools of the State.

The list of speakers will include Robert J. Aley, President of the University of Maine; Hon. C. S. Nelson, Master of the Maine State Grange; John C. Orrett of the Boston Chamber of Commerce; S. C. Thompson in charge of Dairy Manufacturers, U. S. Department of Agriculture; Dr. Charles D. Woods, Director of the Maine Agricultural Experiment Station; F. A. Stearns, Manager Pond Cove Stock Farm, So. Portland; H. J. Wheeler, formerly Director, Rhode Island Experiment Station; Mr. Earl Jones of the Agronomy Department, University of Maine; and many others who will be announced later by the two associations.

Taken as a whole, it may be said that no previous convention of these two associations has ever presented a more practical program than the one to be held in Bangor.

The location of the convention the present year will give the farmers of eastern Maine, and Penobscot County especially, a splendid opportunity not only to attend the meetings for educational purposes but also to enter the products of their farms in competition with those from all sections of the State.

Persons interested in dairying and crop production will find at this meeting and exhibition the best opportunity offered this year for getting in touch with the dairy and seed situation in Maine as a large number of the best dairymen and seed growers of the State will be found in attendance.

Those in attendance at the meeting last year will remember the fine display of dairy equipment and supplies made by the manufacturers. Every effort will be made to have the exhibit of these articles better and more extensive the present year.

The complete premium list and program will be ready for distribution within a few days and can be secured by writing the Secretary, Leon S. Merrill, Orono, Maine.
